Breaking news

Torture at Mae'kelawi

The photo has been taken and sent to EMF direct from Addis Ababa. Police is torturing killing Ethiopians everyday while the other world gives its cold shoulder.

...Zenebe Tadesse, 34, married with three children is one of the detainees. Police officers took him from the premise of Matador Tyre where he worked as a security guard on the day Endalkachew was arrested. Today he appeared before the remand court with his shoulders obscenely swollen from severe torture. He told family and friends that several times, he had been kicked to the ground and different policemen had stood on his neck causing stern pain. "I will die in few days," he was heard saying. Peaceful Resistance and Civil Disobedience as Treason...

All are welcome at a panel discussion

EMF In 2005, 26 million Ethiopians voted in federal and regional parliamentary elections. The ruling party declared victory before votes were counted. Massive protests erupted throughout Ethiopia. In response, government security forces opened fire, killing and wounding many, incarcerating even more. In the months to follow, members of an independent Inquiry Commission responsible for the publication of a report exposing the extreme use of force of Ethiopian troops became victims of harassment and intimidation themselves. Ethiopia Grave Pandora's Box

Bob Astles The Ethiopian invasion of a foreign country and the United States air strikes have made heroes of the Somali militants among the Jihadis across the world, and probably endangers once again the cities and citizens of those governments supporting the invasion. Read More...
