Issue: Ethiopia's Tourism

Media outlets: THISDAY

Headline: Ethiopia: Opening Up as Rich Tourist Destination

Date: August 29, 2017

Summary: Ethiopia , as reported by Chinedu Eze, is the oldest country in Africa and the country that has never been colonised, shied away for years from exposing the invaluable and priceless legacies that dotted its landscape, economic reality and democracy have aroused the country into opening its history and sites to the curious world.

The writer explained the country as heirloom, a pride to Africa and with unraveling history that is labyrinthine and fulfilling.

Chinedu Eze said ,Ethiopia is the cradle of civilisation because that was where the oldest human fossil was found and it houses the first mosque and church built in Africa. Al Nejashi Mosque, which is one of the world's earliest mosques, built in the seventh century by the companions of Prophet Mohammed At Dire Dawa ,Chinedu Eze visited the railway that was built in 1902 and which since then operates uninterrupted diurnal service to Djibouti.

He had full day city tour of Harar Jugol, the Fortified Historic Islamic town located at an altitude of 1,800 metres. H arar is a labyrinth of small streets surrounded by old city walls.

Over the years, Ethiopian Christian heritage has been exposed to the world, like the rock hewn churches of Lalibela, the Kingdom of Aksum, Ethiopian Orthodox Tewahendo Church, the Coptic Orthodox Church that span hundreds of years, including the Ethiopian Evangelical Church Mekane Yesus. But the world may not know that

Ethiopia also has the rich Islamic history, which genesis dovetailed with the roots, the spread of Islam in Africa and in the world.
